WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Backed by President Roosevelt, congressional leaders have virtually closed the door to additional legislation at the special session of congress, summoned to revamp the neutrality act.

Possibility of extending the special session to other legislation became more remote today as it was learned the president has turned thumbs down on a demand that $50,000,000 be immediately appropriated for emergency drought and farm relief.

Fear Flood Of Requests
Although sponsors of the agricultural relief program insist it has not yet been laid aside both Democratic and Republican leaders in the senate and house predicted it will be put over until the regular session in January unless a compromise is reached.

Embargo Repeal Vote May Come During Week

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—This week will tell the story of victory or defeat for the administration arms embargo repeal neutrality bill in the senate. All the signs pointed to victory, the leaders said today.

A final vote may or may not come Saturday, but if it doesn't there will have been enough test votes to indicate what the result will be when the final roll is called.

As the week started—the fourth week of debate on the neutrality legislation—administration forces claimed nearly 70 senate votes. Opposition forces declined to deny this, but based their hopes of a defeat for the arms embargo repeal in the house. There, even leaders said privately that they "wouldn't bet a nickel on the outcome."

Senator Borah (R) Idaho, a leader of the isolationists opposing the bill, started the week's debate in a radio speech last night during which he warned that repeal of the GORHAM, N. H., Oct. 23.—Two men and a woman were reported lost today following a climb of Mt. Washington by a party of eight.

The missing: Anne Pearsall, and Edward Coughlin, both of Lowell, and Robert Vastaw, of Billerica, Mass.

The trio had been missing all night in a temperature of only 16 degrees above zero and with sharp winds blowing around the mountain which rises 6,288 above sea level.

Five of the mountain climbers descended by the carriage road while the missing trio attempted the hazardous descent via the Tuckerman's trail.

Trail Is Rough

The carriage road offered a comparatively easy descent but the trail is rough and marked by deep woods, roaring cataracts and precipitous crevasses. It is blazed, but above the timberline is marked only by stone cairns. Heavy fogs shrouded the mountain top at this time of year.

First news of the trio being lost came when the other five arrived at the base of Mount Washington. Authorities made arrangements to send out searching parties along the trail in an effort to locate the lost men and woman. There was a suggestion that an airplane be used in the hunt.

French Report Stalin Refuses Aid To Hitler

(International News Service)

PARIS, Oct. 23.—French newspaper reports today said that Joseph V. Stalin, Soviet dictator, had refused Chancellor Hitler's request for military aid against the allies.

Hitler, according to stories in petit Parisien, L'Oeuvre, and other papers, asked for 2,000 war planes from the Soviets.

Stalin also insisted, the accounts said, that the U. S. S. R. would remain completely aloof from the actual war, and reserved the right to continue trading with the United States and Great Britain.

Hitler sent his request to Moscow by a personal emissary a week ago, the press reported.

Britain Reports 13 German Planes Downed In Week

(International News Service)

LONDON, Oct. 23.—Approach of "unidentified aircraft" off the British coast caused the air raid sirens to sound again today.

An official announcement said: "No enemy aircraft were sighted in the area. The warning was sounded after the approach of unidentified aircraft."

Previously, the air ministry had announced that at least 13 German planes had been shot down in nine aerial invasions of Britain during the past week.

At High Altitude
Air raid alarms along the east coast broke the Sunday silence yesterday when two German planes appeared at a high altitude. One was quickly intercepted and shot down into the North Sea, the ministry reported.

Its crew of four, inflating a rubber raft before the plane sank, was rescued by a British warship, the ministry said.

Only one of the series of raids on Britain—that on the Firth of Forth in Scotland a week ago, when 16 British seamen were killed—was recorded as damaging. Four of the planes in that attack were reported brought down by the ministry.

Former State Board Handling Civil Service Is Facing Accusations

By RAYMOND WILCOVE

HARRISBURG, Oct. 23.—The seething cauldron of politics which engulfed Pennsylvania last year threatened to boil over again today as serious charges of "improper action" in administering the state civil service system were leveled against prominent members of the former Earle administration.

Stephen Stahlnecker, chairman of the unemployment compensation board of review, informed a joint legislative committee investigating civil service in the job insurance division, "that improper action had been taken by the original board in reviewing discrepancies in the case of many employees."

Makes Accusations
Stahlnecker accused the original board of review, made up of Earle administration officials who have since been succeeded by James administration appointees, of approving employees who patently did not meet the minimum qualifications for the position applied for and whose applications were full of "falsifications."

Stahlnecker specifically charged that in one instance the Earle administration board overruled its own technical staff which had declared ineligible and approved the appointment of Charles V. Kelly, Jr., a nephew of John B. Kelly, Philadelphia Democratic leader, as manager of the Philadelphia state employment office.

GOAL OF CAMPAIGN
FOR YEAR IS $60,000

Community Chest campaigners tonight will "take inventory", so to speak, when they concentrate in The Castleton for a one-hour "report rally" at which drive leaders hope to see pledge totals climb well up toward the campaign goal of $60,000.

The report time will be from 7 to 8 p. m. At the close of the hour, or shortly after, a total will be publicly announced—the first public announcement of campaign progress since the community canvass was inaugurated a week ago tonight.

No dinner is planned. Drive Chairman Marshall G. Matheny, flanked by a corps of lieutenants, will receive formal reports in the hotel ballroom beginning at 7 and continuing until 8. Then at 8 the total will be tabulated. The News will report that total tomorrow.

Beyond reporting tonight, the teams won't have much to occupy them—not like the speeches and the songs and the long programs of the past. Formal dinners were ruled out this year to cut expenses.

Chairman Matheny, active as the commander of his army of 600 workers, has confidence in his helpers and believes that tonight's reports will justify that confidence. That $60,000 will be raised quickly even if dinner affairs are not held. He stressed the importance of reporting tonight.

The $60,000 may not be reached tonight, campaign chiefs realize. They have made plans, therefore, to continue solicitation until it is. That sum is the minimum needed to help finance the work of nine agencies represented in the chest.

Duquesne And Pitt Students Riot On Campus

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 23.—Students at Pitt and Duquesne universities staged a good old-fashioned riot on the Pitt campus today as 500 victory-wild Dukies stormed the Oakland area to celebrate their 21-13 victory over the Panthers Saturday.

One Pitt R. O. T. C. student was injured, apparently seriously, when he brushed against a telephone pole while standing on the running board of an automobile pursuing a Duquesne car. Pitt students said the R. O. T. C. man, not immediately identified, lost his hat and was chasing the Duquesne car to recover it.

On the spacious Pitt campus, the loyal followers of the Panthers staged a fist fight freely for over an hour, while 20 mounted, motorcycle and foot patrolmen struggled vainly to keep order.

There were numerous black eyes and bloody noses, while scores of students were soaked to the skin by fire and garden hose in the hands of Pitt "defenders" manned hurriedly in the face of the Duquesne invasion.

British Air Fleets Ready For Action

Large Scale Air Campaign Near

British Planes Poised On Vast Arc Nearly 2,000 Miles Long

MORE AIR RAID ALARMS GIVEN

By NEWELL ROGERS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Oct. 23.—Britain's air fleets, which already have brought down at least 13 German planes over the British Isles, were poised today in a vast arc of nearly 2,000 miles long ready to soar for either attack or defense.

Following another anxious day with air raid alarms along the coast, strengthening the belief that Germany is about to open a large-scale air campaign against the navy and aviation battle stations redoubled their vigilance against attacking flyers.

These stations extend from aircraft carriers far out in the South sea, down along the eastern coast of the British Isles, and across the English channel along France's frontiers to Switzerland.

The change over of the royal air force from a peace-time to a war-time basis was completed without any interference from the Germans to the amazement of the British air command.

est has been evacuated, save for some minor sections within French territory.

General Marie-Gustave Gamelin, commander-in-chief of the allied armies, was described as "extremely satisfied" with the success of the French movement back to a previously established solid line of defense.

Offensive Is Delayed

This movement has been going on since Oct. 16, with advance patrols drawing German attention so skillfully that the Reich troops became aware of the withdrawal only Saturday, when it was nearly completed, according to the French.

As a result, strategists felt any German plans for a big offensive have been frustrated for the time being, at least.

If the withdrawal had been delayed, it was pointed out, the French would have been hampered by the rising stream—especially the Blies, bridges of which already are submerged.

Instead, the Germans now are handicapped by the swollen rivers, for they have to bring up guns and troops over a no-man's-land that is a virtual swamp, in some places six miles deep between the opposing lines.

were James L. McDewitt, Philadelphia, president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor (A. F. of L.); George E. Prindle, Patton, and Robert L. Myers, Jr., Harrisburg.

Recheck All Employees

Stalhecker told the legislative investigating committee, which is headed by Senator C. Gilbert Wolfenden, Clearfield-Jefferson district Republican, that "so many instances of what appeared to be irregular situations in the first year and a half of existence of the original board" had come to his attention, that the new board had decided to recheck the qualifications of all the 2,800 employees appointed by the Earle board.

The unemployment compensation division, a branch of the Department of Labor and Industry, was set up during the Earle administration. The first civil service appointments were made in January, 1938. To date the division has distributed approximately $120,000,000 in job insurance payments to unemployed workers.

Summarizes Findings

Following seven weeks of investigation, Stalhecker summarized the board's findings as follows:

1. "In July, 1939, 19 months after the last civil service examinations had been held, the original board of review had failed to check all persons actually appointed, to say nothing of failure to check many thousands of persons on the eligible lists."

2. "Because of information received from various sources and borne out by scrutiny of the action of the original board in a number of cases, it became apparent, in the opinion of the present board members, that improper action had been taken by the original board in reviewing discrepancies in the cases of many employees."

3. "This board has found a number of cases where employees who patently did not meet the minimum qualifications for the position applied for were rated by the original board as meeting such minimum qualifications." Among these the present board included the case of Charles V. Kelly, whom it certified for summary dismissal.

4. "The present board has found a number of cases where employees were given too many points of credit in both education and experience."

5. "In a great number of cases the present board has found that apparent discrepancies were overlooked by the old board, and whether or not this was because of failure to notice such apparent discrepancies or because they were condoned is a matter of interpretation."

6. "The present board has recommended to Secretary of Labor and Industry Lewis G. Hines the 'summary dismissal' of hundreds of employees and the striking from the eligible lists of non-appointees whose applications were approved by the previous board and found to contain 'falsification or lack of minimum qualifications'."

7. "In 'hundreds of cases' the former board failed to require employees to produce corroborating evidence of their statements."

Stalhecker's letter to the legislative committee followed one sent him by Senator Wolfenden in which the committee informed Stalhecker it had found numerous discrepancies in civil service appointments and cited 72 employees in Philadelphia county for investigation.

Secretary of Labor and Industry Hines has already announced temporary suspension of further civil service appointments, pending the outcome of the dual investigation.

Nobody knows better than mother what a short time it is from one wash day to another. It seems she no sooner gets her wash out of the suds, and gets it ironed, until it is time to start gathering up the duds again. Washing isn't the task it used to be, soft-soaping the clothes and rubbing them over an old corrugated washboard, but there's still enough drudgery about it to satisfy the average housewife. Invention has provided easier methods of making clothes clean, but they seem to get dirty again just as fast as ever. Mother certainly has a gloomy outlook when she contemplates the washdays ahead. You can cheer her in many ways, and one is by helping her with the family wash.

In this day and generation we have become so familiar with electric light that we often wonder how people got along before Thomas A. Edison gave his marvelous invention to the world. In this connection it is well to recall that it was only sixty years ago Saturday since the burning of the first incandescent light, October 21, 1879. Pa New remembers very well the first electric light he ever saw. It was a star-like attraction on top of a tailspire at Youngstown, O. We do not remember the year, but many New Castle people went to Youngstown just to see this light, which was really no larger than an evening star.

Those who missed a trip thru the woods Sunday missed an opportunity to see a magnificent art exhibit. Maybe it's just because we are getting old and notice things more, but the coloring in the trees this autumn seems to be more vivid than in some other years. Botanists assert that extreme changes in the weather from warm to cold to produce a more pronounced coloring in the leaves, although frost has nothing to do with this in particular. The exhaustion of the chlorophyll, or green coloring matter in the leaves, causes them to turn yellow, brown and red, it is asserted.

but indicated that Republicans and Democrats might get together today on some form of voluntary closure.

—Hopeful Debate Near End.

Administration leaders were hopeful that the neutrality debate would end this week. They were confident they had the votes to swing a cash and carry basis for purchase of arms, munitions and planes by England and France—or any other belligerent country.

Outstanding in an otherwise quiet week end at Hyde Park was the president's attendance at divine services where he heard his family pastor pray that King George VI of England be given heavenly guidance enabling him to "vanquish and overcome all his enemies."

Also during his bi-weekly visit to the Hyde Park estate, Mr. Roosevelt re-emphasized that American territorial waters extend as far out to sea as national safety requires. This definition of "territorial waters" related to belligerent surface craft. So far as warring submarines are concerned, he said his recent order barring the undersea craft from American ports and waters was based on a three-mile limit.

The president failed to direct his secretarial staff to make any appointments for him today before boarding his special train last night. Customarily, however, the executive communicates with the senate leaders immediately to get first hand information on the progress of the acrimonious neutrality debate. Senate majority leader Barkley was reported hopeful that he could get an agreement today finally limiting debate and bringing the repeal measure to a vote. Administration forces are confident they have approximately a two-thirds majority.

When they turn over the city to Lithuania as they propose to do tomorrow, it will be the mere shell of a city, with nothing left except empty rooms.

—Release Communists.

At the same time, Latvia is experiencing the first benefits of Soviet culture by the release under red army pressure of 40 of her prominent communists. These communists, now supported by the red army will, it is feared, speedily be elevated to a position of power sufficient to engineer a communist rebellion and replace the present semi-fascist Latvian regime with a straight red government wholly obedient to Moscow.

The red army in Latvia already outnumbered Latvian armed forces and is able at any moment without trouble to disarm and overpower local authorities.

Hitler's own fear of the bolshevik monster that he fostered and released in the east is shown in official German figures showing the intention to evacuate 62,000 Germans from Latvia, 3,500 from Lithuania and 16,000 from Estonia.

The question now is whether they can get out before the red army begins that through "liquidation" of the bourgeoisie which in Russia meant its utter extermination.

made. While the congressional leaders recognize the desirability of the appropriation at this time they fear that to open the door to additional legislation will result in a flood of similar requests that might prevent a recess between the special and regular sessions.

The possibility of a compromise between the president and the large bipartisan bloc demanding the appropriation developed today. After a previous conference with the president, leaders of the group reported that attempts may be made to borrow the money from existing government funds and then pass the appropriation at the regular session to make up the deficit.

This plan will be discussed by the representatives of the agricultural belts at a meeting planned for today. The group was called together by Senator Bankhead (D) Alabama, one of the leading members of the senate agriculture committee.

65 OF EVERY 100 PEOPLE FOUND TO HAVE SHORT LEG

(International News Service)

DES MOINES, Ia.—At least 65 persons out of every 100 have one leg shorter than the other, Dr. Wallace M. Pearson, of the Kirksville, Mo. College of Osteopathy and Surgery told members of the Iowa Society of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons at their 41st annual convention in Des Moines.

Usually the body has adjusted itself to such a shortness, but in many cases it has not, Dr. Pearson said.

Such a condition, he continued, makes the body more susceptible to various kinds of stresses and strains than are persons with legs of equal length.

Dr. Pearson said the irregularity in leg lengths had been discovered through X-ray photography and declared it was one of the things which would never have been known were it not for the development of the X-ray.

FAITH
The man who wants to keep in the procession today, must deny himself. The man who eats too much, drinks too much, dallies too much or sleeps too much, has to foot the bill in the end. Sin against the physical being, like that against the moral nature, is sure to find you out.

Recreation is a good thing, but a man must be on the watch against laziness. There are some people who have that well known tired feeling. They are like Jones' dog, so tired that he has to lean up against the fence to bark. A disease like that is liable to become chronic, if we don't watch ourselves.

The wise man mixes recreation and business in such proportions that one doesn't spoil the other.

WAR CORRESPONDENTS IN ECLIPSE

SO MANY literary reputations have been founded upon successful correspondence in wars of the past that the almost complete eclipse of that occupation in the current hostilities is regrettable. In other times enterprising writers have somehow wormed their way into the heart of the fray and emerged with stirring-eye-witness accounts. They now seem to be technologically cancelled out—by power machinery.

There are tremendous tidings to be had from the North Sea these days. The world gets what either of the belligerents chooses to put out, which is weak, starved stuff. Any good writer at the scene could get the world by its ears. But to get it he would have to follow the submarine and the bombing plane fighting and there is no way to get there except by the sufferance of governments that are not suffering anything much in the way of news offerings now.

It is too bad but the politicians have taken over the job of war information. And what a miserably poor fist they are making of it.

HEAVY TOLL OF BRITAIN'S BLACKOUT

Official announcement in London that Great Britain's traffic deaths increased during September, the first month of the nightly wartime blackout, 676 over last September's toll, confirms that Britain is paying a heavy price for this lamp-extinguishing measure adopted to obscure targets for German air-raiders. Of the 1130 deaths on British roads last month, far over half were due to this blackout which forced automobiles to drive in city and country minus lights. The fact that only 16 persons—all naval men, all in daylight—have been killed thus far in actual air raids, contrasted to about 42 times this number who perished solely because of the darkening of roadways, shows how serious this protective measure can be.

The minister of transport insists, however, that "the blackout must remain an essential part of our defense measures." Evidently the only way Britain can reduce this doubling toll is to educate drivers and pedestrians in safety rules and strictly enforce all safety laws. And that, of course, is what this and every other country happily free from the blackout device must do to achieve the same goal of minimizing highway tragedies.

MORE JOBS, MORE WORKERS

Employment in New York City during September was above the 1929 average, according to a statistical report published by the local Works Projects Administration. The number of unemployed persons was at its lowest point since October, 1937. Yet, because of the growth of the available supply of labor in the last ten years, the index of joblessness in September was above the 1929 figure.

There were more people at work, but at the same time more people needing work.

"It is estimated," says the chief statistician for the federal relief agency in New York, "that employment will have to rise approximately 15 to 20 per cent above 1929 levels before unemployment is reduced to the 1929 average."

It is a little like the experience of Alice in Looking Glass Land. She sped over the ground at an incredible pace, dragged by the Red Queen, only to find when they paused that they were just where they had been when they began to run. The Queen explained to the puzzled Alice that it was necessary to run that fast just to hold your place and that they'd have to run much faster to get to a different place. Maybe there's a moral that applies to present industrial society.

SUBMARINES, KEEP AWAY FROM OUR SHORES

President Roosevelt's order banning submarines of belligerent nations from American ports and territorial waters is in accordance with the present and the proposed new neutrality law and seems a wise move. Both naval and commercial under-sea craft are included. Even a commercial submarine may have sufficient concealed armament to make mischief. If it is merely carrying a cargo it invites attack near our shores, which is just what we are trying to prevent.

The submarine, as has been shown in the present and the previous war, can rarely be successfully operated according to the rules of civilized warfare. It has no accommodations for putting victims of sinkings in "a place of safety."

"Hit and run" is its rule of action. A neutral ship is as likely to be torpedoed as a belligerent.

In the World War, when we had no special neutrality law, submarines were free to come and go in our territorial waters, and did so. They entered our ports, departed and proceeded to sink ships near our shores.

The new "safety belt," extending hundreds of miles out to sea, wherein our government has declared there must be no fighting, presents an admittedly difficult problem.

But no such doubts attach to our government's asserted control of the waters within its three-mile limit. No nation can say that this constitutes a breach of international law. So, submarines, keep away from our shores. Like the sawed-off shotgun, you spell trouble and your room is preferred to your company.

Sally Rand admits she is broke. Financially she has fanned out.

Russia, of course, would like to make the Finnish republic over into a finished republic.

Europe wants a guaranteed peace but if it could be guaranteed, who would guarantee the guarantors?

Columbus believed the world was round. Many are ready to admit today that at least it isn't on the square.

By keeping out of war Americans can continue to enjoy a life in which the most serious problem is finding a place to park.

The McNutt boom has been launched again, this time in New York. Nothing like it has been seen since seven companies of "Abie's Irish Rose" were infesting the land.

Ambassador Joseph Daniels says he is "more hopeful" about a settlement of the controversy over Mexican expropriation of American oil properties, but is careful not to say how hopeful he was to start with.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

STUDY TIME FOR PARENTS

Most of us know very little about our children's school, despite the fact that their futures rest so heavily upon their school successes.

We must remember that the more we know about our children's school the more we can help them get along in their studies.

What most parents know about their children's school they pick up from the remarks dropped by their boys and girls at home. But children are human, and they therefore are likely to talk most about the things at school which annoy them, the things they don't like. They take for granted the good things. So do we.

For you to spend half a day in the classroom of your children, in the elementary school is to get a liberal education.

We may be surprised at what we see and hear. There is not now the military atmosphere to which we may have been exposed when we were pupils in the grades, such as folding the hands, standing and marching like trained soldiers and almost breathless silence, with the teacher standing most of her time at detecting and correcting mischiefs. Instead, she may not be heard to say a thing about conduct. The children do most of the talking and working while she, like a master engineer, quietly moves among the pupils, helping a little here, offering a suggestion there, answering more questions than she asks.

Have Great Freedom

The children seem to move about with great freedom. They may even seem to be noisy and almost disorderly. But upon closer observation we discern in most of them a very definite purpose and they are not disturbed by one another.

Not all are doing the same thing. Numerous projects and activities are underway. There may be several groups of children working together, on whose faces signs of earnestness and enjoyment are apparent.

At home you may see your own and several neighbor children continuing some of the things they had begun at school, particularly the younger children. Other things begun at home may be continued next day at school. We parents little realize how much the modern school has been doing to add to the evening hours of happiness of our children. It will do them a great deal of good if we make ourselves better acquainted with these high spots of our schools.

A great force in the United States for helping us turn our attention to the school is the P. T. A. It not only helps parents know the school better, but also enables teachers to know parents better.

As we come to know more about the good things of our schools, we find increasing satisfaction in supporting them.

Solving Parent Problems

Q When a child begins going out at night, should his parents sit up till he comes home in order to question him about his conduct while away from home?

A No, but unless it is a hardship you and the child might enjoy the companionship of a little visit after his or her return. Yet it should be a visit and not an inquisition. Any questions should be like those you would ask a guest. The moment you turn yourself as parent into a sneak or detective, you have begun to build a wall between yourself and your child.

Q My baby, two years old, is always biting other children.

Q Be with him when he is with other children. Then when he bites some one, instantly bare his bottom and give him a good sound spanking low on his bare fat thighs. Make it hurt so he will associate the bad act with pain. Let no exception other without getting into pain. But it will do no good to spank him several minutes after the offense.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

PERHAPS ANOTHER STEP FORWARD

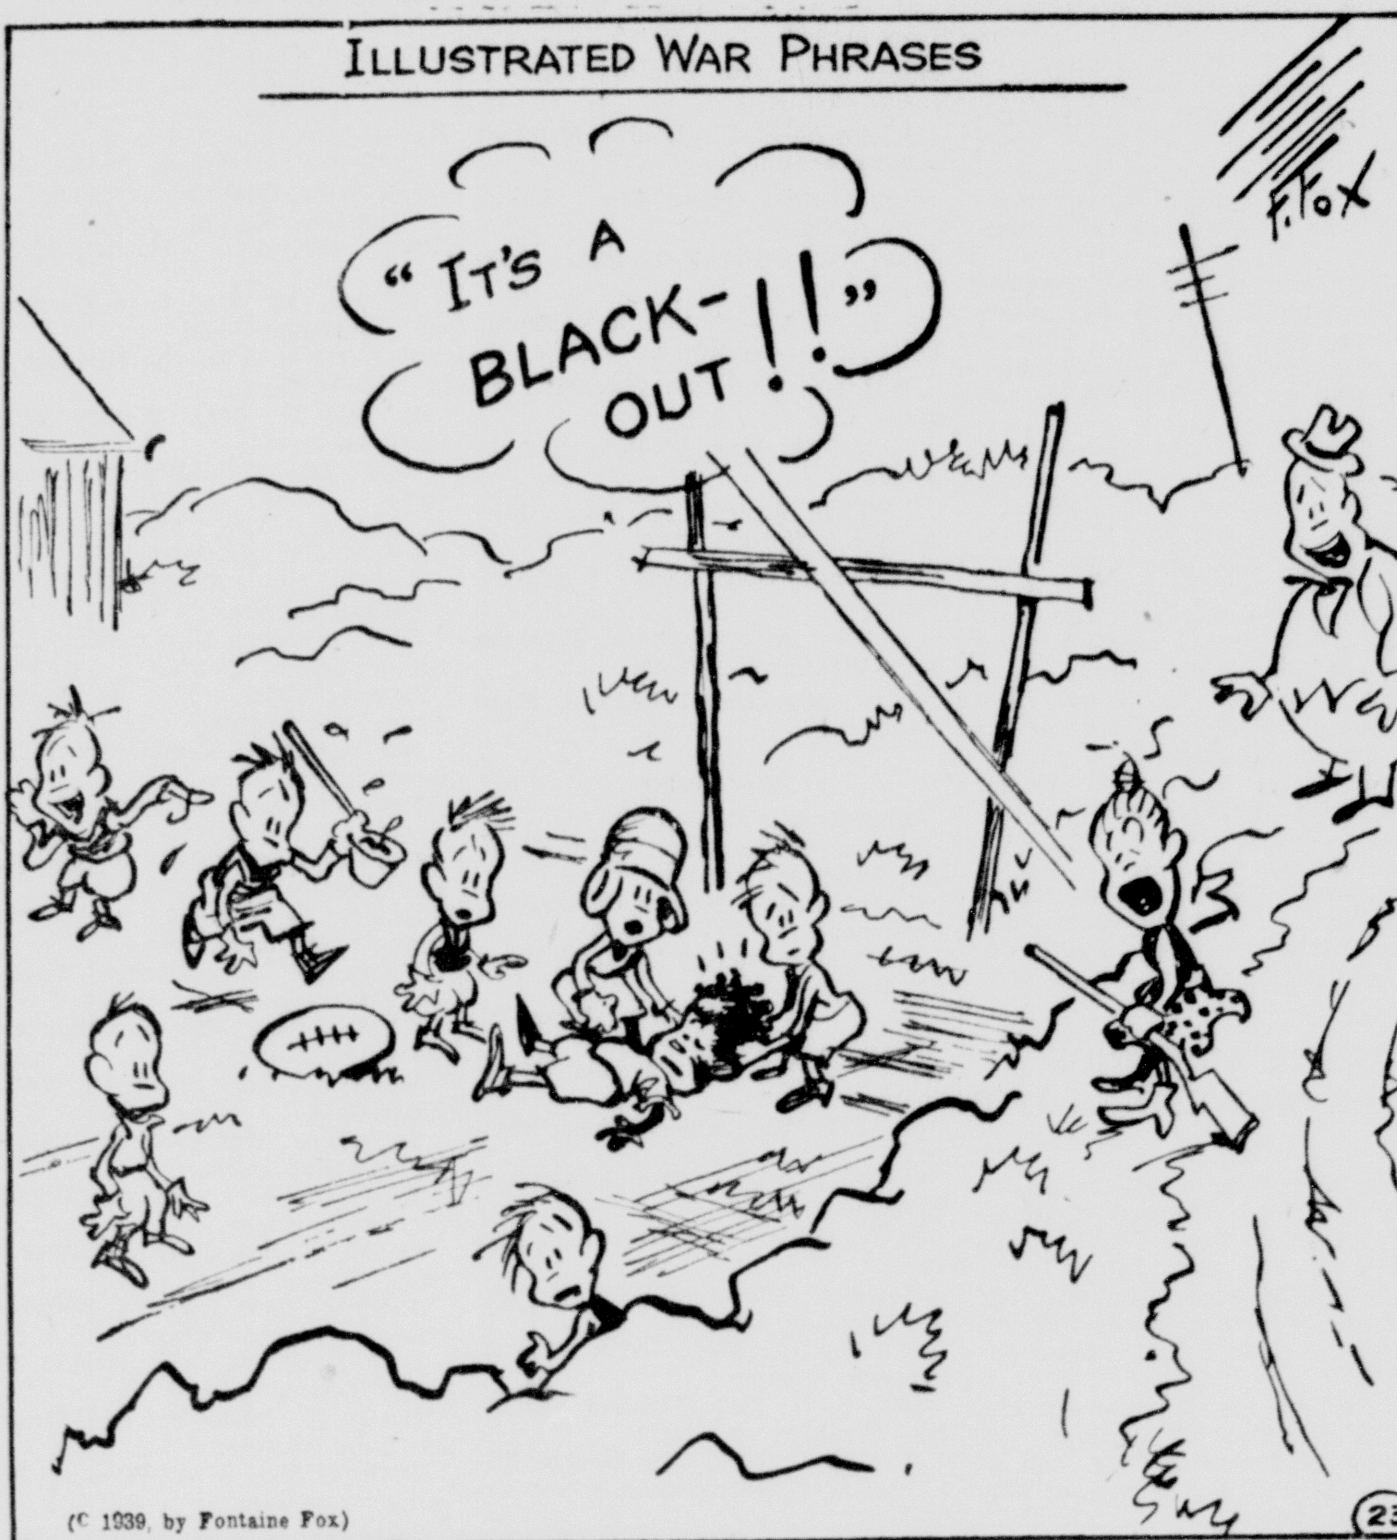

Miracles of medicine have become common of late years, but none has been more amazing or laden with hope for thousands living in the shadow of death than the experiments in cancer treatment by "freezing" the patient in ice packs at thirteen degrees below normal. Healthy tissues, science says, are not injured, but malignant growths are retarded and many cancer cells killed.

Since the spectacular makes news it may be that this practical value of "hibernation" treatment will be greatly enhanced by the public attention centered upon it. For, as the magazine "Hygia" recently pointed out, one of every three Americans does not even know that cancer is curable, if treated in time—although, in a poll, seventy six per cent of the replies named cancer as the most dreaded disease. So, Hygia, concludes, many victims who might have been saved have waited too late before seeking medical aid, for suspecting cancer they could not face an examination they left would amount to a sentence of certain death.

The American College of Surgeons is authority for the statement that 29,125 Americans who once had cancer have been completely and permanently cured by radium or X-ray treatments or surgery. Full value of the ice pack treatment remains to be determined by further study, but it may mark another definite advance toward the goal. Its dramatic nature will be helpful because it makes interesting news. And public understanding, at this stage of the unfinished fight, is almost as important as medical science.

Dear Miss Markel: Please give me some pointers on applying for a position as secretary.—Mazie.

Answer: While your secretarial abilities will decide your tenure of office, if and when you are employed, your deportment and your appearance during your inspection by the officers of the firm for which you aspire to work will have much to do with your obtaining the position in the first place. When you go in for your first interview or your test, wear simple, tailored street clothes, eschewing jewelry, frills, and furbelows and especially, just as couchers should stay away from the movies and other places where their neighbors hope to enjoy themselves.

Argentina Problem For Hull
Commercial Interests Clash
Hard To Arrange Trade Pact

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Central Press Columnist
WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Argentina is the one western hemispheric country which makes complete Pan-American solidarity difficult. The Argentines and the rest of the Latin-Americans are muddling harmonious, but said Argentines by no means are in 100 per cent harmony with us of the U. S. A. We, on the opposite hand, are in at least 99 per cent harmony with all the Latin-Americans except Argentina.

With the Argentines were only about 50 per cent in harmony. Between us there exist no serious political differences of opinion. Argentina is the richest and most progressive of the Latin Americas. Its people are pretty good democrats. They are as anxious as we are to keep European belligerency out of Pan-American waters. Unfortunately we have certain clashing commercial interests.

Hull's Trade Policy

Now a vital feature of Secretary of State Hull's international policy has been the negotiation of a network of trade treaties between this and other countries, such treaties to slash tariffs and generally to encourage active business relationships amongst us.

It's a policy which looks toward free trade the world over. Hull argues that no one country can be satisfactorily prosperous unless all are. But he realizes that his end can be attained only by degrees. His trade treaties are degrees in that direction.

As to the Pan-Americans, it's a policy which has received a wonderful fillip from present European conditions.

All the new world republics were in perfect agreement, at the recent conference in Panama City, upon the desirability of a compact to compel the old world nations to do their fighting at a long distance from our pair of continents and adjacent islands. It also was the universal judgment of the Panama delegates that now is the time for all us new worldlings to get together in a commercial way.

Argentina is no exception. Argentina said so, too, as enthusiastically as anybody.

But here's how Argentina differs from the rest of the southern and insular Americas.

The others all produce plenty of stuff that we Yankees need. Brazil, for instance, has coffee, tropical woods and a potential supply of rubber. Bolivia has tin. Chile has nitrates and various metals that are in demand here. The northerly hot weather republics offer equatorial fruits that don't thrive in our climate. And we have manufactured goods that they require. We can swap them to our mutual advantage.

Argentina also wants our manufactured articles. Hitherto it bought such supplies mainly in Europe, but the war has cut off that source. But what have the Argentines got to pay us off in? Practically nothing that we have not a super-abundance of already. . . . The same kind of crops that we raise . . . plus meats and hides, which we likewise have lots of.

Trade Pact Trouble

So when Secretary Hull undertakes a trade-pact between the United States and Brazil or Chile or Argentina, it's easy enough to arrange. But now the State Department is trying to fix up a dicker with Argentina. The Argentines are perfectly ready to take our manufacturers and our manufacturers welcome the opening of the Argentine market. Our farmers and stockmen are the folks who emit a terrific howl at the idea of admitting Argentine wheat, corn, flax, wool and meat at a time when we have such an over-supply of this same stuff that Uncle Sam is paying them to curtail their production.

The negotiation, accordingly, is tied up in a bow-knot. Had it's going to be untangled is a problem.

Yet the Argentines will feel that they have been discriminated against if they don't get a treaty, like the others. And it will be bad Pan-American business all around if we antagonize as important a fraction of it as the Argentine republic.

"Living," he said, "is winning fame And being deserving of the same."

Another smiling, shook his head: "It's gathering great wealth," he said.

A third said: "Living deeper lies Than fame and wealth. It's being wise."

A fourth replied: "There's something more Required of man than wisdom's lore."

"Living is facing duties grave And being very strong and brave."

"Living," said one, "begins and ends In making and in keeping friends."

The Great Game Of Politics

By FRANK R. KENT

Copyright, 1939, by The Baltimore Sun

Time To Stop Talking

Washington, Oct. 23. TWO weeks ago the statement was made in this place that after a few "first string" senators had spoken, debate over the neutrality bill would be carried on by the third, fourth and fifth raters—that instead of being, as advertised, a great historic debate we would be in for a deluge of bombast, baloney and bunk.

The past week's oratorical output in the Senate has made this seem a considerable understatement. There has not been in that time more than one north-while speech made on the subject, though at least thirty have been unleashed. On the contrary, most of the orators have been either tiresomely repetitious or heavily flavored with the cheapest form of demagoguery, or both. It is inconceivable that any votes could be changed by the Senate utterance of the last few days or, for that matter, any that may be delivered from now on.

ACTUALLY the more recent speeches have not only resulted in unnecessary delay but have been of a character to impair our international relations and leave a particularly unpleasant impression of American statesmanship. There was, for example, the shrill denunciation of England and France as the "aggressors" in the present war by the 37-year-old Senator D. Worth Clark of Idaho. This, coupled with the speeches of Senator Lundeen, of Minnesota, and the bumptious Senator Robert Reynolds of North Carolina, have not been calculated to fortify the pride of the average American citizen in the legislative branch of his government.

THE Minnesota Farmer-Laborite enthusiastically urged that we show "our red blood" by seizing the opportunity of their being engaged in a war to grab the territory of France and Great Britain in the West Indies, while the North Carolina statesman belittled lustily for a "bargain day," at which arrangements could be made for taking over Trinidad, Bermuda, parts of Labrador and Newfoundland in payment of the British debt to us. It is a pity that Big Bill Thompson, of Chicago, was not present to complete this generous and helpful argument by repeating his delicate threat to clout the British King in "the snoot."

ALTOGETHER, it was a disgraceful performance, humiliating to the majority of the Senate and a demonstration of Senatorial cheapness unfortunately not unique. It is true that these expressions came from Senators who carry no weight either in the country or in the body to which they belong. It is true, too, that they represent the views of neither the embargo repealers nor the anti-repealers. But that did not prevent them from getting wide publicity for their remarks nor will it prevent them from being remembered. They were—all three of these speeches—without meaning and without sense.

THEY marked the low-water mark of the Senate debate and it was reasonable to think would have created a sufficient disgust to shut off the torrent of talk. But such was not the case. Instead it goes right up in a bow-knot. Had it's going to be untangled is a problem. Yet the Argentines will feel that they have been discriminated against if they don't get a treaty, like the others. And it will be bad Pan-American business all around if we antagonize as important a fraction of it as the Argentine republic.

IN the end, of course, every Senator will have got his stuff, such as it is, off his chest and the vote will be taken. But there is no reason to think that even less will be taken next week. The leaders hold out hope that they can vote by Saturday, October 28. The only real amendment which seems necessary to consider is the one relaxing the restrictions on American shipping so that American vessels can be kept out of combat zones and still not be swept entirely from the seas at the sacrifice of practically all our exports. Plan Celebration In Beaver Valley

Legion Posts Of District Will Have Annual Armistice
Day Celebration

At the monthly meeting of the Beaver County committee in the Legion Home at Rochester plans were furthered for the annual observance of Armistice Day by the member posts, which include New Castle and Ellwood City.

A parade over two miles in length will be one of the features of the day's program. Because of the fact that most of the members of the American Legion Junior band, are also members of the high school band, the local delegation will be without a musical organization, but will march with the Ellwood Post in the parade.

Endorsement was given the National Commander's banquet to take place in New Castle during the month of April, or early in May, 1940.

Officers for the coming year will be named at the November meeting in the rooms of the Col. Joseph H. Thompson Post, and the place for the 1940 Armistice Day celebration will also be chosen.

GRAMP gets grumpy when you call him an "old man." Says he doesn't feel a day over 35.

But Gramp has a cane to lean on. Not the gold-headed one his boss gave him when Gramp retired last year. The cane he leans on is life insurance. Gives him a regular monthly income as long as he lives; he is not dependent on anybody.

Did you ever wonder how much people really get out of life insurance? They were benefited, in various ways, by over two and one-half billion dollars last year. But let's look at just one special group of people:

Life Insurance in Action

To defend and protect the U.S. and all its possessions the Government paid out about one billion dollars for all branches of national defense last year.

To defend and protect American homes, the life insurance companies met one and one-third billion dollars in 1938 in death claims, annuities, endowments and disabilities . . . enough to give a million families $100 every month in the year. There was still another $1,200,000,000 in various other kinds of life insurance benefits last year.

About a million people drew monthly incomes, collected endowments or received disability income from life insurance companies last year. How much did the million get? About 475 million dollars or about 70 million dollars more than the cost of the entire U.S. Army for the year!

Through his foresight in past years, Grandpa is one of this million. He and Grandma are very good examples of life insurance in action. They had protection for the family while the children were growing up. And now they have security for their own old age. "And I didn't have to die to win," says Gramp.

There are competent and well-trained representatives in every community to explain the benefits of life insurance. Let your agent discuss your individual needs with you.

When the fuse burns out
At your house some night
And the lights go out
And it's dark,
And the radio won't play
And you frantically search
For candles
And you light matches
To help you see
To put in a new fuse;
Then you can appreciate
What it means to have the advantages of Electricity.
Or when the water pipes
Are being repaired
And you are without Water for a while
You can appreciate
The advantages of
Water in your home.
Or suppose you lived
In a town that had
No churches.
And no church bells
Ringing out on Sunday
And no Sunday Schools
For children to attend
And no ministers or priests
To preach the teachings of Christ,
Or to marry young people,
Or to officiate at funerals
When our loved ones
Are buried.
If there were no churches
Then we would appreciate
What churches mean
To our city.

That's the way
It is with these
Community Chest
Organizations
That help the blind
The poor
The hungry
That provide
Wholesome activity
For our boys and girls
For people of all classes
And colors and creeds.

We wouldn't want to live
In a town that didn't have
These organizations.
We want our water
Our electricity
Our churches
And our Community Chest
Organizations.
They cost money,
Of course.

Kiwanis Club Raises Sum To Buy Iron Lung

Check For $1,670 Is Sent To Jameson Memorial Hospital To Meet Cost

A check for $1,670, total cost of the new "Iron Lung" acquired for Jameson Memorial hospital recently through a community fund-raising campaign promoted by the Kiwanis club, was mailed from Kiwanis to the hospital today. The hospital will forward the check to the manufacturer.

Over the week end the Perry S. Gaston post of the American Legion turned over $140 to President Jesse N. Kerr of Kiwanis to complete the payment.

While Kiwanis inspired the drive for the money to buy the artificial respirator, long a need here, other civic groups co-operated and had much to do with the drive's success.

"We want New Castle to know that many organizations pitched in to help," Kerr stated. "Youngsters from six to 10 years of age even helped by staging community plays."

Sometime ago the "lung" was received at Jameson and placed on public display. The $1,670, it was explained, represented the cost of the lung itself and shipment expenses.

Optometrist Says Inner Tissues
Of Eyes Cannot Be Altered

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES—Eye prints are a surer method for identification of criminals than finger prints.

Dr. John R. Dean, Los Angeles, made this statement at convention sessions of the American Optometric Association.

"Criminals have discovered ways and means for altering their finger impressions," he said, "but none have dared to tamper with the delicate tissues of their eyes."

"To an optometrist, no two retinas are alike. Microscopically enlarged photographs of inner tissues of the eyes can be identified years afterward."

To make such photos, he said, the camera is focused on the point where the optic nerve enters the retina. A photo is made of the fine network of veins, which automatically trace themselves upon a screen, superimposed, graphlike, in front of the negative.

The eye, Dr. P. W. Schmidt, of Glendale, said, is more closely connected with the intellect than any other sense of mankind.

Optic nerves, he continued, "report" to the brain with the rapidity of light's movement in the ether, at the rate of 186,000 miles a second. Consequently, he showed that this keen sense, moving along the nerve tissues seemingly is instantaneous and impels the mind to react at the speed of an electrical impulse.

"That is why," he said, "that sharp visioned individuals react

BERLIN—Hatters of the Greater Reich are as concerned as their British colleagues at the bare-headed vogue of the young men today.

An advertising campaign has been launched by the hatters central organization to encourage wives and sweethearts to urge their menfolk to wear hats.

The advertising takes the form of a humorous "strip" cartoon showing how stupid a man looks with his hair dishevelled by the wind and rain, and how immaculate he can look in an elegant "tribby."

A short poem urges—
"Wives, fiancées, mothers, and sisters, take care of your men. See that they never go bareheaded again!"

Triple Execution Takes Place At Rockview Prison

Much Respected Erie Man Dies

Two Others Who Pay Extreme Penalty Came From Philadelphia

NEW EXECUTIONER TAKES UP DUTIES

By TOM R. BRISLIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ROCKVIEW PENITENTIARY, BELLEFONTE, Pa., Oct. 23.—Pennsylvania's new official executioner—a thin, heavy-lensed Pittsburgh electrical engineer—sent three men to their deaths in the electric chair early today, one of them unconvinced even up to the moment he was led to his doom that he was to die for the brutal slaying of his wife.

The new executioner, chosen by Warden Stanley P. Ashe of the Western state penitentiary and approved by Secretary of Welfare E. Arthur Sweeney, was Frank Lee Wilson, 37, the father of two small children.

Those Executed
The man who could not believe he was being executed for his crime was Paul Ferry, 51-year-old Erie county wife killer. The two other victims of the state's first triple execution in almost two years were Willie Bailey, 36, and Ira Bob Redmon, 28, both Philadelphia negroes. Wilson, his identity kept secret until just before he performed his grim task, succeeded the late methodical Robert C. Elliott, who served as official executioner in Pennsylvania for 13 years and sent 110 men and one woman to their deaths. Obviously trying to perform his job thoroughly and apparently calm and collected as he manipulated the controls, Wilson brought death to the trio in slightly less than 15 minutes. All three were badly scorched, with Bailey probably getting the worst burning of all.

First to go to the chair was Ferry, previously given 13 respite by two Pennsylvania governors, ex-Governor George H. Earle and Governor Arthur H. James. Ferry got on the chair at 12:31 and was dead three minutes later.

Children's Frequent Colds

For relieving discomforts of chest colds and night coughs, rub VapoRub on throat, chest, and back at bedtime. VapoRub's poultice-vapor action relieves congestion of upper air passages—eases soreness of chest and back muscles—helps the youngster relax into healing sleep.

For coughing and irritated throat caused by colds, put VapoRub on the child's tongue to relieve the irritation. Then massage VapoRub on throat and chest.

For "sniffles" and misery of head colds, melt VapoRub in a bowl of boiling water. Have the child breathe in the steaming vapors. This loosens phlegm, clears air passages, makes breathing easier. Also massage VapoRub on throat and chest. Millions of families use these three time-tested treatments.

Mr. Bischoff pulled his car off beyond the berm and the wheel passed without hitting his car. The car of Mr. Felton was directly back of Bischoff's car and the three hundred pound wheel hit head on.

Can't Eat, Can't Sleep, Awful Gas PRESSES HEART
"Gas on my stomach was so bad I could not eat or sleep. It even seemed to press on my heart. A friend suggested Adenika. The first dose brought me relief. Now I eat as I wish, sleep fine, and never feel better." —Mrs. Jas. Filler. Adenika acts on BOTH upper and lower bowels. Adenika gives your intestinal system a real cleansing, bringing out waste matter that may have caused GAS BLOATING, sour stomach, flatulence, nervousness, and sleepless nights. Adenika contains five carminatives and three laxatives to give a more BALANCED result. Just one spoonful usually relieves GAS and constipation. Adenika does not grip, is not habit forming. Medwick Will Go To Chicago In Big Trade

Believe That Cubs Will Give Up Herman, Galan And Maybe Bartell For Slugging Joe

CARDINALS HOPE TO GRAB OFF PENNANT

By BILL CORUM
International News Service Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Joe Medwick goes to the Chicago Cubs. That's the hottest news in baseball, and it comes right off the curb-stones at Grand and Olive in old St. Leo. Said as it may be for the fervent Flatbush fans, who wanted Jersey Joe's son to be their Dodger, it's the blinkin' truth, it is.

Only an unforeseen last minute hitch will prevent consummation of the deal, and the story's so hot that Sam Breadon may break down and announce it before the week is out. Several Chicago players will go to the Cards for one of the games greatest hitters and National league's outstanding stars. Among these will be second baseman Billy Herman and an outfielder, probably Augie Galan. The dicky legged Dick Bartell, late of the Giants, may also figure in the transaction.

Bartell Scrappy
Somebody in the St. Louis front office may have the same thought this column has had about Bartell. That, in spite of his bad legs, he might make a whale of a third baseman for a hard-hitting club. Rowdy Richard is smart, scrappy, a winning type. The gas house type. While neither Herman or Bartell is what he used to be, either one could have another good year. That could mean a pennant for the Cards. If his legs pitchers come through, tightening his infield looks to be Blakes' main problem for 1940.

As for the Cubs, they are getting a known quantity. One of game's great natural hitters and a fellow who can play all the left field necessary. If his legs hold up, Joe still should have some of his best years in front of him. He's a real ball player.

With Medwick, Nicholson, and the suddenly awakened Hank Lieber, the Cubs should have the hardest-hitting outfield in the Frick Follies next season.

Perhaps Joe will deny the story. He probably doesn't know about it yet himself. Breadon, Wrigley, Rickey, et al., also may say it isn't for a time. But I'm afraid it is. I'm afraid the deal is made.

Titans Are Defeated By Geneva Team 25-0

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 23.—A Geneva eleven methodically and consistently added point after point in successive quarters at Westminster's homecoming at New Wilmington Saturday afternoon, scored in each quarter, and stood 25-0 as the game ended, before the largest Titan homecoming crowd in several years.

First downs were 14 for Geneva to seven for the Titans. Westminster completed five in 11 passes to six in eight for Geneva.

In the first minute of play Valenti, Titan back, fumbled on his own 20-yard line with Susko of Geneva recovering. On the first Geneva play Cicili found a wide hole off right tackle and ploughed thru for a touchdown. Johnson's attempt at extra point was wide.

Valenti received the Geneva kickoff, fumbled on his own ten, but laterally to Plau, who galloped to the 40-yard line in a brilliant recovery for the midday Titan back. Valenti made seven yards and on a second play gained a first down. A Valenti to Evanoff pass netted six more yards but there Westminster was halted and Shup punted.

A few plays later, a Morgan-Cicili reverse netted 19 yards for Geneva, advancing the ball to midfield, where the play held until the end of the quarter.

Second Quarter
In the second quarter, Evanoff intercepted Morgan's pass on the Westminster 30-yard line and returned it to his own 45. But on the next play, Kuder of Geneva intercepted Valenti's pass intended for Shup on the Geneva 40. Kuder ran the ball back five yards. A reverse, Susvo to Morgan, brought eight yards through the center of the line.

Westminster held, and Evanoff broke through right guard for 20 yards, but again the Titans were held for downs and forced to punt. Seventy yards from the Westminster goal line, Strimlan broke thru right tackle, slugged Titan would-be tacklers and skirted along the sidelines the entire distance to a second touchdown. Currie's attempt was wide and the score was Geneva 12, Westminster 0.

Morgan's pass to Masneri for Geneva was good for 35 yards, and the Covenanters were within ten yards of the Titan goal when the half ended.

In the third quarter, Morgan showed a pass to Susko from the Titan 45-yard line which was good for 25 yards, and the ball found a resting place on the Titan 20-yard stripe. Morgan gained eight through center, and a Morgan-Susko reverse gained a first down. Susko picked up 11 around left end and Morgan on a spinner over right guard scored the third Geneva touchdown. Johnson's placement was good. Score: Geneva 19, Westminster 0.

In Final Quarter
The Covenanters waited until the final quarter to score again, when Geneva, in a series of short line plays, brought the ball to Westminster's 12-yard line. From here, Cicili cracked the Titan line for four yards, and on the next play Phillips passed to Graham in the end zone for the final Geneva touchdown. Strimlan's kick was blocked, and the score, 25-0, remained the same until the end of the game.

Westminster substituted freely in the closing minutes of the final quarter and the game ended with the ball on the Titan four-yard line in Geneva's possession.

Stan Luttoa, Buffalo, N. Y., varsity Titan center, suffered a dislocated shoulder in the second quarter.

Slippery Rock Thumps Indiana

Rockets Move Closer To State Teachers' Conference Title With 13-0 Victory

Slippery Rock practically clinched the mythical State Teachers' College Conference title by bowing over Indiana Teachers, 13-0, Saturday afternoon at Indiana. A rain-drenched homecoming crowd of 3,500 watched the exciting tiff.

Early in the first period, the Rockets staged a sustained drive of 77 yards for the first touchdown. Kaufman featured with a sensational 43-yard run into pay dirt. Kline's placement was good.

Late in the second period, Slippery Rock recovered a fumble on Indiana's 40. Denbow then acted to Banks on the 13. On two consecutive off-tackle smashes, Denbow plowed over the last line.

Filbert Nocera, diminutive former New Castle high griddier, started at left end for the Rockets. Picutta, Howley and Dombroski, who were the Red Hurricane colors not so long ago, saw action in the Rocket lineup and played impressively.

CHECKER GIRLS TO MEET
There will be a meeting tonight at eight o'clock of the Checker Girls softball team, it was announced today by Manager James Million.

Sports World Ramblings

Local Niblets: New Castle high has a severe case of fumblyitis. In the first six games, the Canes miscued 2 times. Against Butler, New Castle muffed on seven occasions.

The New Castle-Washington game was the last home night game of the season for the local eleven.

To an Irish Fan: Will have answer to your query within a day or so.

Leaving the Stadium, following Friday's game, everyone seemed to be discussing Otis Burris' running exhibition. The colored athlete deserves all the bouquets tossed in his direction. After gaining 44 yards on four attempts, he grabbed the pig pelt a fifth time and dashed 74 yards for a touchdown. His legs looked like pistons in a high powered racing car. His burst of speed was blinding, a treat to the eyes.

Grid Footprints: It costs approximately $60 to equip and uniform the present day football player. Alabama was the first Southern collegiate eleven to spill a Jim Crowley coached Fordham edition. The last name of Jack Meaher, Auburn coach, is pronounced "Marr."

Since Tom Stidham took over the coaching reigns at Oklahoma, the Sooners have won 18 out of their last 19 grid fays.

Sport Chatter: From high up in one of those British Royal Air Force planes, Tommy (two-bit) Farr announces that he is looking forward to a return trip here to meet Joe Louis again. Farr says his native Wales will spare him for a few months if Papa Jacobs says the match is on. This has gone of a war is that? The boxing game is so dull, after several months of activity, that the managers are fighting among themselves.

Bits of this and that: Johnny Malsch, Marquette halfback, bakes cakes for his buddies. No wonder, he's the son of a Milwaukee baker. According to New York rumors, Carl Hubbell signed his 1940 document for $15,000, seven grand less than he pocketed for pitching for the Jints last season. "Ducky" Medwick is on the block. Look for a mad scramble. If those stories about his bag legs are true, someone may be sorry for grabbing him.

Palkovitch also kicked two of the extra-points after touchdown. DeWitt scored the Sharline touchdown in the second period after a run of about 27 yards.

The entire Bears line played a fine game, with Toscano, Adamo and Rainey the standouts.

Manager Willie Dornick announced that next Sunday the Bears will play the Canton Terrors at the E and A field at 3 o'clock. This is the championship team of the Canton-Massillon district.

High Gridders Resume Training

"Red Hurricane" Back On Practice Field After Beating Washington High 33-0

MASSILLON HIGH LOOMS ON FRIDAY

New Castle high school football team resumed training this afternoon after having laced the Washington high team 33 to 0 last Friday night at Taggart Stadium. It will be Massillon Tigers this coming Friday night at the Tigers lair in Massillon. A mighty big task for the locals.

The team will be given a lot of hard work this week. New Castle wants more than anything else to defeat the Massillon Giants. The Tigers have won 19 straight games. New Castle being the last team to upset the Tigers back in 1937.

Tickets for the game were placed on sale this morning at the Sporting Goods Store and Senior High.

Tech Goes Down
Duquesne is the lone undefeated eleven in Pittsburgh today as a result of another major upheaval. Carnegie Tech's 6-0 loss to their old jinx, New York university. The Plaid was unable to cope with the more baffling offense dished out by the lads from the Gay White Way. The Tech defeat only proves that Kern's machine was another over-rated club.

Westminster's Titans were unable to match the strong Geneva college juggernaut, dropping a 25-0 decision. Slippery Rock kept its clean slate by dumping Indiana, 13-0. Grove City and Allegheny played a 0-0 tie.

State Routed 47-0
Cornell's Big Red packed too much ammunition for Penn State, pasting the Nittany Lions, 47-0. This was State's worst defeat in 10 years. Cornell, among the undefeated elevens, is blessed with an abundance of everything. Penn surprised by disposing of a supposed-to-be powerhouse, Harvard, 22-7. The Quakers continued unbeaten as did Georgetown by conquering Bucknell 13-7.

Yale spoiled Army's unbeaten mark, 20-15 Dartmouth maintained its perfect slate by kaying Lafayette 14-0. Ohio State gave definite proof of its strength by pancaking Minnesota 23-20, in probably the most exciting clash of the day State spotted the Gophers 7 points in the first quarter and then went on to become the first Big Ten club to whip Minnesota on home soil since 1932.

Northwestern finally cracked the ice, scoring over Wisconsin, 13-7. Bill DeGorrevont sent the stands wild by running 44 yards for a touchdown only to look around and discover that the play had been called back due to a holding penalty against the Wildcats.

Michigan Wins 85-0
Indiana's Hoosiers broke another record Saturday, scoring its initial triumph over Illinois in 40 years, 7-6. Michigan's Wolverines gave the Hoosiers a headache by squashing poor Chicago 85-0. The worst defeat in Chicago's history. The first defeat was treated to one of the most sensational track meets of the football season. Tom Harmon had a pincushion 18 more points. Purdue easily toppled Michigan State, 20-7.

Before approximately 79,000 fans, Notre Dame's undefeated team smashed its way to a 14-7 victory over Navy. In torpeding the Mid-dies, the Irish were not so impressive. Nebraska was too much for Baylor 20-0. The Cornhuskers remained undefeated. Tulane's Green Wave, rated on a par with Tennessee, was held to a 14-14 deadlock by North Carolina, in another surprise.

Duke's Blue Devils buried Syracuse, 33-6. Detroit pinned back North Carolina State, 21-6, while Oklahoma romped over Kansas, 27-7. Holy Cross, physically fit again, flattened Brown, 20-0. Long Island joined the list of defeated elevens, sinking by a 33-0 count to Bradley. In another surprise,

Many Grid Goliaths Defeated Saturday

Saturday's football merry-go-round saw an astounding number of Goliaths of the gridiron literally mangled. The day was studied with upsets on all corners of the nation and sent coaches and prognosticators scurrying to their medicine cabinets.

The biggest surprise of the season came within the walls of Pitt Stadium where a ferocious gang of Duquesne Dukes came back from behind to pin back the ears of the mighty Pitt Panthers, 21-13. What started out to be an easy Pitt victory turned out to be the most startling upheaval. Pitt took a 13-0 lead in the first period.

With 25 seconds of play left in the second stanza, the men from the bluff dug their cleats into pay dirt. "Buff" Donelli must have injected a miracle medicine of some kind into the arms of the Dukes. It was Duquesne all the way through in the second half. For the second time in three years, the Dukes bowed over the famous Panthers. Incidentally, this marked the last Pitt-Duquesne clash.

Bessemer Jolts East Brady, 25-6

Kennedy And Pelto Lead Cement City Warriors To Easy Triumph, Saturday

INITIAL DEFEAT FOR VISITING TEAM

Bessemer high school's mighty football team easily conquered a hitherto undefeated East Brady eleven, 25-6, Saturday afternoon at Bessemer.

Displaying an abundance of power, featured by spectacular tackling and blocking, the red and black clad warriors sewed up the setto in the initial quarter. With the sound of the starting whistle still echoing amid the cool October air, Kennedy, swivel-hipped Bessemer halfback, electrified the gallery with a sensational 45-yard scamper for the initial Bessemer touchdown.

A short time later East Brady tumbled on their own 35. Bessemer recovering. Following several successful ground plays, Bessemer moved to the 15. From this mark Kennedy skirted left end for his second touchdown of the afternoon. Recovering another fumble on the visitors 35, Bessemer took the pig-pelt down the field, Pelto dashing around right end for the third score of the quarter.

The final touchdown came in the third stanza on one of the most thrilling plays of the season. Kennedy faded back and tossed a fly ball to Pelto, who scored. The aerial covered 45 yards. Skuta placed-kicked the lone extra marker for the winners. East Brady hit pay dirt in the last period, Schumacher rifling a pass to Haugh, the play covering close to 45 yards.

Ellwood Scores 19-7 Victory Over Midland In Surprising Upset

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 23.—With the King Midas touch and with all the Gods of the gridiron world smiling upon them, the Ellwood City high school fearless Wolverines, every player a hero, smashed the defense of a highly touted and favored Midland team to shreds on Saturday afternoon at Lincoln field to emerge with a well-earned 19-7 victory.

After such a feat of tripping the 1939 Beaver Valley champs and the undefeated Midland team of this season well on their way in the Double AA race, the Croft-Gills lads are deservedly riding high today. Last year, Midland kept Ellwood from winning the Geneva trophy and Saturday the same team, including the famed Alston duo, Ordich and Rosatone, were bottled up with unrelenting fury by an unheralded Blue and White team determined to pay the Walters crew back in their own coin for last year's humiliating defeat.

One of the largest crowds of the year took advantage of the comfortably cool afternoon to see their favorite team in action and all came home agreeing that it was an outstanding and thrilling performance of years. There wasn't a half-dozen that had any idea their home team would win, all just hoping that the Blue and White could keep their opponent's score low and as the inspired Wolverines, who through the entire week had been confident of victory, twice reached pay dirt in the first period, the expressions on the Ellwood fans' faces were incredulous and like Scrooge they began to look at each other to see if the action on the field was an apparition or "just something they etc."

Great Performance
As the game progressed, local fans realized that they were seeing a crew that just couldn't be beaten and after the Blue and White tally was registered, Midland fans aware that they were witnessing a great performance by a smaller, much less experienced team than their own, voluntarily applauded.

For the day, it was apparent that the Croftmen had any weakness. They did everything well. They were sharp and sure on attack, strong and powerful on defense. Their interference clicked, their timing was almost perfect. They kicked well, blocked well and ran well. For the first time this year, they tried passing, and that worked too, all four shots being completed for sizable gains. Ellwood fans knew they had a good pass defense and two Midland touchdowns were staved off by alert Ellwood players battling down the ball.

The game was not many minutes old when Ellwood scored on a thirty yard march. Ordich kicked from the 40 to Ellwood's four to start the game with Reino returning the ball to the 28 before being stopped by Gledich. Murphy and Reino hit the line for a first and ten and in the next four plays were forced to kick. Midland was given a 15 yard penalty for holding. After recovering their own fumble, Midland was forced to kick and Reino returned the ball to the Midland 30 before being stopped. A pass from Reino to Powell was good for 11 yards and the ball was on the Midland 19. Reino and Murphy slashed the line for another first and ten and the ball on the 5 yard line and in two plays Murphy took the ball over hitting right guard both times. His try for the extra point failed.

Thrill Of Game
After the kick-off when Midland was unable to gain they kicked from their 39 to the Ellwood 39 where the ball went out of bounds. Biege, Reino and Mazzant knifed the line with great work from the Ellwood line for 14 yards and then came the great thrill of the game. On the Midland 46 Biege unexpectedly skipped back and shot a long, accurate pass that soared over the heads of the Midland players and then safely landed in the arms of Biege, who received the ball on the run and eluding surprised tacklers ran the remaining twenty yards to score. Mazzant's try for the extra point failed, and Ellwood was out in front 12-0 and half of the first period was still left to play. It was a beautiful play and Biege's receiving was spectacular.

Biege, thought by the coaches to be the outstanding back developed here in years, was hurt a little later in the game and was taken to the hospital for examination for a kidney injury. The injury proved to be only slight and he returned to witness the rest of the game from the bench. Murphy, Cipro and Greco alternated in his position.

Beginning the second period, Croft sent in a flock of Ellwood reserves and in short order the Alstons and Ordichs made four first downs and quickly had the ball down on the Ellwood 8 and in an ideal scoring position. In short order, the regulars were sent back in and their great defensive strength in time of urgent need was displayed to everyone's satisfaction as they held back the Midland crew in four tries although Midland did get the ball on Ellwood's 2. Twice Cartwright, quarterback, playing in the line on defense, stopped the Midland onslaught; once Powell nailed Ordich and in the last try the whole Ellwood team piled on the Midland runner to stop the threat.

Taking the ball on their own 2, Reino and Mazzant took it for a first and ten only to have it taken back 10 yards for two offside penalties. This time Reino kicked from his 3 to the 29, and Midland just had 29 to go for a touchdown. Their line gains were null then Rosatone pass to D. Alston for 13 yards with Pishonieri making the tackle. Ellwood was prepared for the second pass and this time Reino intercepted the hurl on his own five and returned it to the 19, just before the half ended.

Make Third Touchdown
A fumble by Ordich on the Midland 45 started Ellwood's third drive and this time Reino, Murphy and Mazzant alternated in carrying the ball through the Midland line with Mazzant going over from the 2. Again Ellwood had a first and ten with the ball on the Midland three. This time the Midland crew rallied and it took Ellwood all four chances to make those three yards. Murphy's placement kick was good and Ellwood was ahead 19-0.

Midland came back strong and the irony of fate kept them from a touchdown that for seconds looked good to the bleacher crowd. After the kick-off D. Alston passed to Hunter and it was good for 29 yards before Hunter fumbled and recovered. Alston and Ordich hit the Ellwood line for 11 yards and the ball was on the Ellwood ten, and they had a first down. Then a pass to D. Alston from Rosatone, looked good but the officials ruled that it was caught beyond the end zone. On the fourth try Ordich fumbled and Miller recovered for Ellwood on the Ellwood 5.

But the Walters outfit were not to be denied and taking the ball on the Ellwood 40, they passed and knifed the Ellwood line for three first downs and then a pass from D. Alston to Rosatone for 5 yards was good for 6 points and their only score. Ordich's placement added the extra point. The other half of the last quarter, Ellwood devoted to battling down desperate Midland passes and one beauty was intercepted by Reino as the game ended.

Excellent Kicking
In the statistical department, Midland shaded the locals, having 12 first downs to Ellwood's 7 and gaining 163 yards in scrimmage to 148 for Ellwood. Excellent kicking played a major part in Ellwood's victory. Mazzant's kick-offs were exceptionally good, with the ball once going beyond the end zone.

Gledich, Green, Katich, Swaney and Sassic were outstanding in Midland's line and the Alstons and Ordich in the back. Every Ellwood player gave a super performance, and to mention any single player would be decidedly unfair. The Croft lads can't rest on their laurels but must go on for three more difficult games. Altoquippa, New Brighton and Beaver Falls. Next Friday night they go to Altoquippa for their second and last night game and in the Leppe's crew will be faced by their largest opponents of the year.

G. N. C. A. Makes Report About Work Being Done For Progress of City

The Greater New Castle Association, organized by New Castle and Lawrence county citizens to promote the welfare of the entire New Castle community, has mailed its first formal "progress report" to its membership.

President Norman E. Clark, in his introductory letter, calls attention to a "decided improvement" in the local industrial situation. Executive Vice President Arthur H. Andrews prepared the detailed report.

Chairman William E. Langen of the GNC's publicity committee has condensed the report for publication and today The News, co-operating with the association, presents the first bulletin summary.

President's Letter

The Officers and Directors of the Greater New Castle Association wish to make public information pertaining to the progress of the Association. However, it can readily be realized that there are investigations conducted by the Association that are of such a confidential nature that they cannot be divulged. This becomes necessary on account of the intense competition from other communities which, at the same time, may be negotiating with the same industries your committees are working with.

We are very much gratified that at the time of the first issue of our Bulletin the industrial situation in New Castle is decidedly improved. Nearly all manufacturing plants, including the Shenango Tin Mill which was closed for a period of time, are now operating at capacity. However, we should not lose sight of the fact that many changes have been made in the manufacturing process of a great many industries. Particularly is this true in the field of the basic industries upon which so much of the prosperity of this City depends.

Therefore, during this period of industrial activity, we cannot afford to lessen our efforts to obtain new and diversified industries, but rather they should be redoubled.

The Officers and Directors of the Association want you and the entire Community to feel that this is your Association. We want you to bring your business problems to the office of the Association. You will find the Executive Vice President, Mr. Andrews, and his staff always ready and willing to discuss them with you. If the information you desire is not available from the records and files at our office, you can be assured that every possible effort will be made to secure the correct information for you from the proper source.

May I close this letter by expressing my appreciation to the scores of men and women in this community who have given so generously of their time, labor and effort to make this Association a success, and New Castle a better place in which to live.

Sincerely,
NORMAN E. CLARK,
President.

Industrial Development

As all Members are aware, increasing the industrial activities of New Castle is a major purpose of the Greater New Castle Association, Inc.

The carrying out of this purpose, however, include activities that have for their objectives improvements in the economic, civic, and social factors that affect the operations of industry and those other agencies that serve industry. However, in this first issue of the Members' Bulletin under the subject of Industrial Development, it will be our purpose to deal only with matters that are directly those of industrial stability and expansion.

In the matter of industrial development, as well as in several other lines of effort, the corporate limits of the City of New Castle will not bound the Association's activities, but instead they will embrace the outlying areas adjacent to, and those that serve, or may be served by the business and professional interests in New Castle.

The subject of industrial stability and expansion has two major divisions:

1. Retention and expansion of industries already located in New Castle and vicinity.
2. Securing new industries for New Castle and vicinity, which is divided into three classes: A. The starting of entirely new industries. B. The removals of going industries from other localities. C. The establishment of branch plants of going industries.

During the eight or nine months since the organization of the Association was begun, much of the time of its Officers and Members of its Industrial Committee has been devoted to industrial development activities, and experience has been had covering each of the divisions and subdivisions referred to above.

In this issue of the Bulletin, we shall be able to give only a brief summary of the work that has been done, referring by specific reference to only a few of the projects contacted.

For the purpose of information for the many Members who obviously cannot be brought into close personal contact with the conditions confronting your Officers and Committees dealing with individual industrial prospects, and the consequent feeling that little general publicity was being had, attention is called to the following facts:

1. Hundreds of Communities throughout the country are actively and aggressively competing for the location of new industries.
2. In at least nine out of every ten cases of prospective industrial location, the question of some financial grant or concession is definitely an important factor in locating a new enterprise and, in many cases, it is a controlling one. This applies regardless of the standing or resources of the prospect.

3. In at least nineteen out of every twenty cases, the prospects are interested in, and will consider, locating in nothing but a well conditioned, conventional type of plant, viz., solid construction (not sheet steel), well lighted (daylight), open space plant with ceiling height not in excess of twelve feet.

4. Those recognized as authorities, because of their extensive experience, state that an average period of at least two years exists in the case of sound, going concerns of considerable size, between the time when the matter of changing their locations or establishing substantial branch plants, is first considered until a final decision on a specific location is made.

5. In practically every case, contacts must be made and negotiations carried on with prospective new industries in the strictest of confidence. That is because of the competition between communities, and also because most worthwhile enterprises, for very obvious reasons, demand it.

The accuracy of these five points has been fully confirmed in the experiences of the officers and committees of the Greater New Castle Association in dealing with more than fifty prospects during the last few months.

Report Of Progress to Oct. 1, 1939

Number of projects contacted in person or by correspondence—54.
Definitely closed and not secured—20.

Secured—New—1.
Retained—1.

Where the chances for successful conclusions are hopeful—10.
The successful conclusion of one of these will probably be announced in the near future.

*In various stages of negotiation other than the above—22.

*Some temporarily suspended because of war conditions. Some decidedly doubtful, either because of their soundness being questionable, or because our ability to meet desired conditions, financial, plant, etc., is doubtful.

In the above fifty-four prospects are those of many lines of business, and those located from the Atlantic to the Pacific Coasts.

In a number of cases, the names of prospects were given the association by members who had learned of them either through business contacts, or in other ways.

This co-operation, which is of the most practical kind, is greatly appreciated, and we hope to have many other leads come to us in the same manner. Every prospect that comes to our attention from any source will be investigated.

Fassinger & Son Manufacturing Co. We are very pleased to welcome to our community the Fassinger and Then snap out of it! No man likes a tired, weak, "ailing" woman around. Maybe all you need is a reliable "woman's" tonic. So try famous Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Medical tests have proved it is the MOST EFFECTIVE woman's tonic.

Let Pinkham's aid better digestion and assimilation to help tone up your whole system and thus help calm jittery nerves, lessen female functional distress and help give you glorious NEW ENERGY.

WORTH TRYING!

Son Manufacturing company located at East New Castle in the plant formerly occupied by the Crowl Tank company.

This industry was secured for the city through the good offices of your association. Mr. Fassinger and his son have now installed the first unit of their machinery, and are in production and shipping goods.

Mr. Fassinger has a lifetime background in the steel business, having been for a number of years vice president of the Oliver Steel company of Pittsburgh, and we are confident that under his guidance and leadership, what is today a small industry will eventually grow to one of large proportions.

We wish this new enterprise much success.

National Pants Company

The first aim and purpose of this association is to retain and make comfortable every industry already located in the community.

While working along these lines early last fall, it was learned that the National Pants company contemplated expansion of their operation and the concentration of all their production in one city, but because of lack of floor space then available and other factors beyond their control, they were seriously considering offers from other cities where additional floor space and more favorable terms could be arranged.

The committee from the association interested themselves in their problem, and, consequently, details were worked out whereby the company was able to secure possession of the entire building which they previously had only been occupying in part. This meant the retention of an industry for New Castle which as of January 1, 1939, was employing approximately three hundred and twenty-five persons, with a yearly payroll of approximately $225,000.00.

A committee of your officers and directors recently called on the officials of the National Pants company in their New York office, discussing with them their progress in New Castle and the possibilities of future expansion. The officials of the concern stated that since the agreement had been entered into with the Greater New Castle Association, their program had been one of continual expansion and growth, and that they are now employing between four and five hundred persons, and that their payroll for the year 1939 will amount to close to $350,000.00.

We appreciate the co-operation of the officials of this company and we wish them much success in their future operations here.

Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation

On several different occasions prior to and after the closing of the Shenango Works, a committee from the association visited the officials of the corporation in their offices in Pittsburgh for the purpose of laying a true picture of New Castle's economic condition before them.

Each time the committee was received very cordially, and we are sure that the chief officials of the corporation have a very sympathetic understanding of conditions here, and we are very much gratified that they saw fit, on October second, to place the Shenango mill in full time operation again. This move on their part will do much to relieve the unemployment situation in New Castle and is very much appreciated by the community.

Copperweld Steel Corporation

As a citizen of New Castle you probably are asking the question why the Copperweld Steel corporation, which purchased the Standard Steel Car Works, could not have been located in New Castle, and we believe that you are entitled to an explanation as to what steps were taken by your association to secure this corporation for New Castle.

Prior to any public announcement that the building had been purchased, one of our members gave us a tip that the Copperweld people contemplated a move from their present location in Glassport, Pennsylvania. The president of the corporation was immediately contacted by letter and an interview requested.

Before a reply was received from the corporation, rumors became prevalent on the street that the sale of the Standard Steel Car plant had been made to the Copperweld Steel corporation. Upon learning the name of the purchaser, the officers and other members of your association immediately contacted the officials of the corporation regarding the possible location of the plant in New Castle. Mr. Ed. B. Bramer, president of the corporation, stated that the purchase of the plant had been made with the intent of dismantling and moving the same to Warren, Ohio, to be erected as an addition to the plant owned by the company in that city. Mr. Bramer stated that his company already owned a plant in Warren, with approximately four hundred and twenty-three acres of ground, this plant having been acquired sometime previous to the purchase of the Pullman Standard Car plant, and that in view of this location in Warren, there was not now, nor ever had been, any possibility of securing the plant for New Castle.

Taxation And Assessment

At the time of the session of the Pennsylvania legislature, the directors of the association voted to support legislation having for its purpose the simplification of tax assessment methods and the equalization of tax valuations within sixth class counties and third class cities.

Conventions

The association co-operated with the local representatives of the Women's International Union Label League in extending an invitation to the league to hold its 1941 biennial meeting in New Castle, and the invitation has been accepted.

The directors of the association have extended an invitation to the Pennsylvania Department of the G. A. R. to hold its 1940 state convention, together with those of its allied organizations, in New Castle. No decision has yet been announced, but we are hopeful that our invitation will be accepted.

B. & O. Railroad Employee Dinner

Representatives of the association were appointed and were happy to serve as a committee to assist B. & O. employees in arranging for their dinner which was held on May twenty-third. Reports from many sources indicated that this event was a huge success.

Testimonial Dinner To The Pennsylvania Power Company

The Greater New Castle Association gave a testimonial dinner to the Pennsylvania Power company on the occasion of the dedication of its new three million dollars power station of June 29, 1939, in recognition of the company's practical demonstration of faith in the future development and expansion of New Castle and Lawrence county.

WPA Projects

When it was learned early in August that the government was planning to move the New Castle office of the WPA to Franklin, a delegation of city and county officials and business representatives was hurriedly recruited by officers of the association and went to Harrisburg in an effort to have the New Castle office retained because of the acute relief and unemployment situation that prevailed at that time.

A conference which was held with State WPA Director Colonel Mathews, did not result in retaining the office in New Castle, but a clearer understanding of the New Castle situation was had, and Colonel Mathews offered to give every assistance within his power in securing the approval of practical WPA projects for New Castle and Lawrence county.

Calendar Of Events

Officers of all organizations and groups, that are to sponsor entertainments and other events that should be of any general interest to the people of New Castle, are requested to advise the office of the Greater New Castle Association immediately upon the selection of the dates when they are to be held, so that the information will be available to others to enable them to avoid conflicting dates. All information will be on file and available to any interested party upon request.

Future Reports

In the future reports of this nature to the citizenry of New Castle will be a regular feature.

CHIEF IS IRKED; HE IS ASKED TO DO SUCH SILLY THINGS

(International News Service)

CORONADO, Cal.—Police Chief Jordan thinks he has the wrong kind of a job—all because people ask him to do foolish things.

Without waiting for a reply a feminine voice on the telephone asked him if he kept stamps on hand and then went on ordering one to be delivered immediately to her home.

Still another feminine voice on the telephone queried:

"Who won the horse race at Hollywood today?"

And while Jordan and the boys tried to figure that one out she continued with:

"Well, I'd like to know whether

Los Angeles won the baseball game with San Diego this afternoon or not and what was the score?"

Chief Jordan says he is thinking about asking the chamber of commerce and a messenger service to merge forces with the police department.
